

FOUR OF YARROWDALE CREW, ALMOST DESTITUTE, ARRIVE AT THE DANISH CAPITAL

Majority of Americans From Crew of Sunken Ship Still Held in Germany

RELEASE EXPECTED SOON

Germany, in Special Note to United States, Promises That Remains of Americans Will be Freed On March 7: Great Loss of Ships in War

By Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, March 2.—Four Americans from the steamer Yarrowdale, who have been prisoners in Germany for three months, arrived here today. They are: Dr. John Davis, Columbus, Miss.; Orville Mc-Kim, Watertown, N. Y.; Dr. H. D.
Snyder, Norfolk, Va., and Richard Za-raskie, Englewood, N. J.

The four men were practically destitute. They reached here with only the clothes they stood in and will under the custom of the sea be supported by the British consul until it is possible to send them home. They owe their release before the remainder of the 72 Americans who were on the Yarrowdale to the fact that as physicians or veterinarians they ranked as officers and were confined in the officers' camp at Karlsruhe.

The horse-drawn and sailors who composed the bulk of the American captive are still in "quarantine" at the prison camp for enlisted men at Dulken.

The four men left the camp at Karlsruhe on February 27 and traveled direct to Warnemunde under escort where after being subjected to the usual frontier search they were put aboard a Danish ferry and left to shift for themselves. The Danish police took charge of them on their arrival in Denmark and provided them with quarters for the night at Gjesdar and gave them the first heavy meal they had enjoyed since they arrived in Germany.

Ancient sea practice makes seamen stranded in a foreign port the guests of the consul of the power under whose flag the lost ship sailed. United States Consul General Winsow was compelled, therefore, to refer the passless, penniless and moneyless wanderers to his British colleague.

BEST OF YARROWDALE CREW TO BE RELEASED

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Cor-mally, in a note to the State Department today by Dr. Paul Ritter, Swiss minister, promises the release of the Yarrowdale prisoners on March 7, saying quarantine regulations will have been complied with by that date.

TEN PER CENT OF WORLD'S SHIPS DESTROYED IN WAR

NEW YORK, March 2.—Shipping destroyed since the war began, exclusive of war vessels, represents 10 per cent of the world's merchant navies as it existed on March 1, 1915, according to figures published by the Journal of Commerce today.

The statistics record the destruction of 2,575 vessels of 4,811,100 gross tons, of which more than half were owned by Great Britain. Entire losses have been about 75 per cent of the total and tonnage 75 per cent.

The figures list 202 vessels of approximately 429,000 gross tonnage as definitely reported destroyed during February or since Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare began.
This compared with 184 vessels of 335,351 gross tonnage in January.

ASTORIA WILL TRY HARD TO AVOID BREAK

BERNE, Switzerland, March 2.—The recent reports that the Austro-Hungarian government has determined to make every effort to maintain diplomatic relations with the United States is corroborated by information reaching here from Vienna. The strong impression prevails that Austria-Hungary intends to make every effort which it regards as reasonable, although such action apparently would mean flying in the face of Germany.

SUGGESTS REGISTERING ALL FOREIGN MAIL

NEW YORK, March 2.—To remedy in a measure the present chaotic conditions of the mail service between the United States and Europe the Merchants' Association of New York has suggested to the postmaster general that foreign mail be forwarded in units duly registered so that the sender may know in what unit his letter has been placed and if the unit is lost will be certain as to the fate of his mail.

AMERICAN STEAMER AROUND AFTER KENYON BLOCKADE

BORDEAUX, France, March 2.—The American steamship Rochester, which arrived in the Gironde river yesterday from New York after running the German blockade, went around while ascending the river in a fog last night, 11 miles down the river from Bordeaux. It is expected the boat will be released without difficulty with the intercession tide.

2,008 RECRUITS FOR NAVY IN MONTH IN RECORD

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Reports

SENATE BILL WILL GIVE THE PRESIDENT MUCH MORE AUTHORITY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The next move in the program of putting the United States in a state of armed neutrality to deal with Germany was delayed in the Senate today by objections of some members based on the expedient of a parliamentary situation until 4 o'clock.

At that hour an effort will be made to substitute for the armed neutrality bill, which last night passed the House, the Senate bill, which confers on the President the authority to use "other instrumentalities," in addition to arming merchant ships.

The bill has the backing of the administration and is expected to be later accepted by the House.

The official notice of the Berlin admiralty that all consideration for shipping ended March 1 and that the campaign of ruthlessness now is in full swing has not changed the situation any, although its bold declaration that no special warning will be given to any boats by submarines was regarded in sharp contrast with the delayed portion of the German foreign minister's speech to the Reichstag, spoken before Germany's plot to ally Japan and Mexico with her in a war on the United States was revealed to the world.

Senators who have been curious to know when the United States government came into possession of Zimmer-man's astounding dispatch to German Minister Eckhardt in Mexico City, realized today that the President last night, transmitting Secretary Langley's report of its authenticity did not say, as was supposed at first glance, that the government had come into possession of the document within the last week, but without discussing the question of its authenticity, the Senate that the "evidence of its authenticity" was procured by the government during the present week.

This seemed to confirm the belief of many that the President knew of the existence of the document when he decided to delay no longer in breaking off diplomatic relations that he certainly knew it when, urging the Senate to ratify the treaty with Colombia, he wrote Senator Stone that the United States might need all the friends it could get in Latin America.

Members of Congress who had hoped to force an extra session in March acknowledged today its improbability, at least until June.

from all sections of the United States show that the recruiting campaign being conducted by the navy department in having greater results than at any time since the Spanish war. In 26 recruiting days to February 28 the roster of the navy was increased by 2,068 men. In one week the gain was 901 men.

GERMAN SUBMARINES WILL GIVE NO MORE WARNINGS

BERLIN, March 2.—The admiralty made this announcement today:
"On March 1 expired the final period of grace allotted for sailing ships in the Atlantic. From this date no special warning will be given to any boat by submarines."

TURKS IN FELL MERE RETREAT TO BAGDAD

The Turks are still retreating pell-mell up the Tigris and already are half way to Bagdad in their hurried flight before the victorious British.

The British official statement reporting on the "Tigris operations" announces that the retreating Turks passed through Aziziyah Tuesday evening.
This point is but little more than 45 miles west of Kut and if the British, as seems probable, are right on the heels of the Turks, the progress of their advance guard has been more than 20 miles since the last definite report of their position received on Wednesday.

While the Franco-Belgian front operations continued to be featured by the sustained British progress as the German retreat along the Aisne is kept up, there are signs of a reawakening along the fronts in Russia and Galacia. With the advancing season, increased activity is reported in Sector all the way from Riga to the Rumanian frontier.

The Russians after capturing some of the heights near Yale Pulna, southwest of Kimpolung, near the northern Rumanian front, are attacking to regain the remainder. Berlin reports five Russian attacks falling here.

Petograd announced the fighting is continuing. It concedes that the Ru-manians who had taken a height near Rokozna were compelled to withdraw.

TO USE OWN BIBLE

President Wilson Will Be Sworn In With Old Used Book.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—When President Wilson takes the oath of office for the second time next week he will do so on a small Bible used for the same purpose when he was sworn in as governor of New Jersey and as chief executive of the nation in 1913.
It is his personal property.

OPERATORS MAY FIGHT THIS BILL

Representative Maurer Would Make "Vocational Diseases" Cause for Compensation.

Special to The Courier.
HARRISBURG, March 2.—The unanimous opposition of coal operators in the bituminous fields of Pennsylvania, from the Cambria-Clearfield region to the West Virginia-Ohio line, is expected to be brought against a bill introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Maurer of Berks, providing that "vocational diseases" bring an employee under the terms of the workmen's compensation act. Under the terms of this bill miners' asthma would be ground for compensation claims.

The amendment to the workmen's compensation law would add the reason for compensatory disability insurance; that is, instead of insurance payable only for personal injury—"violence to the physical structure of the body," as the act now reads—the classification would include "such diseases or infections as may be found to be vocational, or to inhere in the condition of the premises, or to result naturally from the operation of the employer's business or affairs thereon."

Not only would miners benefit, but employees of manufacturers of white lead, matches, glass and other products and these employers are expected to line up with the coal operators against the amendment.

GET CONTRACT TO GRADE FOR BRIDGE

A. I. Anderson & Brother Will Build Piers for Station at Fayette Station.

The contract for the grading work and erection of concrete piers and abutments for a new steel viaduct to replace the present trolley bridge over the railroad tracks at Fayette station has been awarded to A. I. Anderson & Brother, who have already begun the work. The contract for the bridge itself has not yet been let. The Anderson company will not do this part of the work, a member of the firm stated today, as it is "out of their line." The Andersons are excavating for the Western Maryland yards now under way at Fayette.

The contractors are clearing for a landing to the east of the yard, about 50 feet south of the present landing.
The west landing will also be 50 feet to the south of the present one.

The viaduct will be about 1,000 feet long, and will be constructed by the West Penn and the Western Maryland.
The structure will be elevated 32 feet above the Pennsylvania tracks.
The bridge will cross all railroad tracks, the trolley track next to Morrell, and after passing under the O.
& D. shortline will swing southward after crossing the railroad tracks by way of the new viaduct and come into Dunbar at the greenhouse.

WIRELESS CLUB MEETS

Chorpenning Delivers Lecture on Action of the Audion.

C. M. Chorpenning, instructor at the Coke Center Radio Club, last evening delivered a lecture on "The Action of the Audion," telling the wireless enthusiasts of the latest device for detecting wireless signals, at the monthly business meeting and weekly lecture in the club room on North Pittsburg street. Plans were made for the erection of a long distance receiving aerial to be swung at right angles to the present aerial, and bills accumulated during the month were ordered paid.

Next Thursday night Mr. Chorpen-ning will lecture on "The Production of High Frequency Oscillations," and all persons interested are free to attend. A public lecture on the wireless will be held in the near future under auspices of the club.

VOTE ON BONDS

South Connellsville Eleventh Ward Pass On Issue for Paying.

South Connellsville will vote tomorrow on a $22,000 bond issue for sewers and street paving. Voting will take place in the basement of the high school building from 7 A. M. to 7 P. M.
Indications today were that the issue would pass.

At a meeting of council last night Fire Chief Harry DeBoer reported having estimated on a number of automobile chassis, upon which it is proposed to build a motor fire truck. Auction was deferred until Tuesday of next week.

A suit for divorce was filed in Uniontown today by Mrs. Clara Wright Boegly of South Connellsville against Samuel A. Boegly of Connellsville. The Boeglys were married on last September 16 in Philadelphia. Cruel and barbarous treatment is alleged.

Contract Not Let.
Lawrence & Critchfield, contractors on the local high school, were bidders on a school job at New Brighton last night. The contract was not let, the board there being of the opinion that the bids were too high.

STATE MEDIATION BOARD OFFERS AID TO AVOID STRIKES

M. P. Frederick, Member of the Commission, Confers With Union Leaders.

FLORENCE TROUBLE OVER

Mr. Frederick and State Factory Inspector James S. Darr Assist in Bringing About Better Feeling Between Strikers and Employers.

M. P. Frederick, a member of the State Mediation Board, who assisted in the settlement of the strike at Florence nine miles from the city, confer-ed with W. W. Ellis and A. H. Shaffer, officers of the Trades and Labor Council here last night in regard to plans for the avoidance of strikes and walkouts.

Mr. Frederick asked that in case of impending trouble in any line of work the board be notified. A representative will be sent on at once, he said, to help adjust the difficulty amicably.

Mr. Frederick and State Factory Inspector James S. Darr of Connellsville only yesterday returned from Dawson, where they had been looking into the Florence strike. Inspector Darr and Mr. Frederick assisted in bringing about a better feeling between employees and operators of the Florence mines, the men having already returned to work.

Inspector Darr is now required to make a report on all strikes or threatened strikes in his territory. In the case of a threatened strike or lock-out, he requests those concerned to hold off for a few days, in which time a mediator will be sent from the department of labor and industry in Harrisburg, who will work with the sole aim of securing an amicable settlement of the difficulties.

Since the last session of the legislature, when this regulation went into effect, special representatives of the state have prevented and settled quite a number of strikes. Mr. Darr said this morning, explaining just what course he and Mr. Frederick followed at Florence.

The Florence miners were out on Saturday and Monday, and on Tuesday all but a few of them returned to work, without being granted the advance of wages which they desired.
On the arrival of Mr. Frederick, all were induced to return to work. They had asked 75 cents instead of 65 for "shooting" a car of coal, claiming that the high cost of living made the increase necessary. The operators pointed out, however, that they were paying the regular scale of wages prevailing throughout the region, and that with their present contracts it would be impossible for them to raise the men's wages. About 75 men walked out.

Reports of trouble at the mines were denied by all concerned. The dusties at the plant, it was intimated today, were placed there to prohibit labor agents from taking the striking workmen.

Mr. Frederick, having done all he could to promote good feeling at Florence, left this morning for Beaver Falls, having received a telegram from Harrisburg, instructing him that he was to act as mediator in a strike at that place.

STUDENTS POOL MONEY FOR SEEDS

South Side Youngsters Adopt Co-operative Plan of Buying Gardening Takes Boom.

The co-operative idea in efforts to reduce the high cost of living has impressed pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the South Side school as being a good one. The enterprising youngsters have formed a club for the purpose of buying seeds in quantities, thus securing them much cheaper than by individual purchases.

Teachers have interested the pupils in flower and vegetable raising. The girls will plant flowers and the boys garden truck. Vast lots will be much in demand. By forming a pool of their seed money it was possible to get much more for what they had to spend.

So far as known this is the only school to take up gardening in an organized way. Parents and teachers are encouraging them in every way possible.

Councilmen Meet

City council met this afternoon as a committee of the whole to consider the list of tax exonerations prepared by City Treasurer R. R. Floto. Later they planned to discuss the curfew ordinance which has been proposed, and they may decide upon the tax levy.

Weather Forecast

Cloudy tonight and Saturday, probably snow, is the noon weather forecast for Western Pennsylvania.

BOY SCOUTS NOT LIABLE FOR MILITARY SERVICE, LOCAL SCOUTMASTER SAYS

The Boy Scouts is not a military organization, and the scouts are not committed to any distinctive military operations, A. O. Stone, scoutmaster of the second Connellsville troop, pointed out today, after having heard that some mothers feared their boys would be pledged to enlist if they joined the scouts.

In regard to this, "Scouting" says:
"The organization will not need to change its program and policy which have been followed since its foundation. Its outstandingly announced primary concern in the physical development of the boy will stand the test.
As a national organization no distinctive or definite part will be taken in any military operations. No local organization will have such authority.
Indeed, for any local organization to commit, the Boy Scout movement to any distinctive military operations would be in violation of the trust reposed in us by the parents of the boys who have permitted them to enroll with us for character and citizenship training."

Testimonials for the scout movement by two local pastors follow: I regard the Boy Scout movement as an exceedingly important and helpful agency of the church in work among boys. There are no more crucial periods in our lives than the one through which we pass at the boy-scout age. If our boys can then meet the tests of life successfully, they are reasonably sure of developing into strong, trustworthy men.
From one to six a boy is governed by his instincts rather than his intellect and will yield ready obedience to authority; from six to 12 their early instincts and directions tend to fix habits of life, from 12 to 15 he is wonderfully responsive to many ideals and wide fathers and mothers will strive to compass his life at that time with ideals that are of the best.
There is where the Boy Scout law proves its worth. Any boy who can be persuaded to be a good scout and share his conduct in harmony with the 12 points of the scout law, trains himself in principles of character that are bound to make him a good citizen.
I do not favor the use of the boy-scout system for military ends. The highest ideals of manhood are the ideals of peace.
REV. ELLIS B. BURGESS.

I heartily approve of the organization known as the Boy Scouts and make its work its purpose and make for higher manhood; its principles are enlightening and uplifting and, as a result, its popularity among boys and their parents must greatly increase. It stands for what is helpful to the Boy gives zest to his life and directs his activities into channels that should lead to a useful career. It deserves the support of all those who want the best for the boys.
REV. J. L. PROUDFIT.

PORTER FALLS INTO SKYLIGHT

James Strange, Wright-Metzler Employee, Hurt When He Plunges From Ladder.

James Strange, colored porter at the Wright-Metzler Department store, suffered a fractured elbow about 5 o'clock last evening when he fell from a ladder while repairing a third floor skylight. He fell to the second floor and was unconscious for a half hour as a result of the blow. A physician was summoned and his injuries were dressed. He was resting easily today.

Strange had his ladder standing on the second floor skylight while he worked on the one directly above. In some manner the ladder slipped and fell. He struck on the second floor skylight and would have gone through it but for the fact that he became tangled in the ropes of the ladder. A piece of the heavy glass was broken from the second floor skylight. It struck the first floor skylight and went through to the cellar. Had any one been standing at that spot he would have been seriously hurt.

The only damage done was the breaking of the glass in the two skylights. What caused the ladder to slip is not known, but probably the movements of Strange at the top end, caused it to slip on the glass.

The injured man was given first aid by Percy Stentz of the men's clothing department, until a physician arrived.
One of the women clerks and a customer had narrow escapes from the injury, having just passed over the skylight on the first floor which was badly damaged by the broken glass from the skylight on the second floor.

STORES TO MOVE

Crowley-Metzler Company Gets a Crawford Avenue Location.

Changes in the locations of several of Connellsville's business establishments will be made within the next few months. One of the most important is the removal of the Crowley-Metzler Shoe Company from its North Pittsburg street store to the room now occupied by the Penn Office Supply Company, formerly Thomas & Buck. The Crowley-Metzler firm will move on May 1.

Just where the Penn Office Supply will go is uncertain, it was stated there this morning. Three good locations have been offered the owners and they are considering them all.
The store room in the Kohacki property on Main street, formerly occupied by Huston's drug store, is being remodeled, the changes being now nearly completed. Indications are that it will be occupied shortly.

HIS EYE INJURED

Physicians Unable to Find Annoying Object.

Howard Lowe of Tenth street, 17 years old, a Baltimore & Ohio machinist, suffered a painful injury to the right eye when something pierced it while he was at work yesterday afternoon.

He was removed to the Cottage State Hospital and as yet the hospital physicians have been unable to locate anything in the eye. It is thought he will not lose the sight of the eye.

Organize Secret Society

A secret society, the purpose and organ of which are unknown, has been organized among the boys of the senior class in the high school. The society is known by the letters R. O. C.
The members of the trigonometry class are thought to be the organizers but are close-mouthed about what they intend to do.

Murderer to Die.
NEW YORK, March 2.—Joseph A.
Mullinolland, the fourth man convicted for the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Nichols, a wealthy widow, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair the week of April 9. The murder occurred September 18, 1915.

RIST TIPPLE FIRE MAY MEAN CLOSING DOWN OF PLANT

Coal Nearly Worked Out, Frick Company Undecided Whether to Rebuild Works.

80 MEN ARE OUT OF WORK

Several Thousand Dollars Damage Caused by Blaze About 2:30 O'clock Last Night; Bin Takes Fire and Company Threw Out Good Work.

Fire thought to have been caused by a spark falling into the bin of the Rist Tipple of the H. C. Frick Coke company at Broad Ford last night, burned the bin and part of the tipple, causing damage to the extent of several thousand dollars and throwing between 75 and 80 men out of employment, so the present.

The fire began about 9:30 o'clock and was not entirely extinguished until about 6 o'clock this morning.

The flames got a good start and the company fire department gave up trying to save the bin and directed their efforts to the boiler house and engine room. The flames began to eat their way down the long trestle but were halted by the firemen.

The fire started at the top of the bin and ate its way down into the coal.
To stop this the bottom of the bin was dropped out and the coal let down on the tracks. There were 100 wagons full of coal in it at the time but only one was lost.

The coal at the Rist plant is about worked out, there being only about a two months' supply left. Whether the tipple will be rebuilt or whether the works will be abandoned has not yet been decided by the Frick people. There are 80 ovens at the plant and these will also be abandoned if the tipple is not replaced. The coal has been expected to work out within a few weeks and it would not be a profitable move to build the tipple for only a little coal.

The company will take care of the employees, and if the plant is shut down permanently they will be employed at other works.

The fire drew a large crowd, many automobilists from this place driving down, attracted by the fire whistle at Broad Ford, which could be plainly heard here. Broad Ford residents turned out to help fight the fire but their assistance was not needed. The flames from the wooden structure and the burning coal shot high in the air, lighting up the surrounding hills.

STEEL MILL PROGRESS

Duggan to Finish Foundations Today or Tomorrow.

Contractor John Duggan, Sr., will finish work on the concrete foundations for the new United States Electric Steel mill either today or tomorrow, he announced this morning. It is likely that work on the mill will begin immediately at the conclusion of Mr. Duggan's part of the construction.

Hold back by the weather and late arrival of materials, the contractor's concrete work has been much delayed, and it seems now almost impossible to get the mill ready for activity by April 1, as had been hoped. It is likely that the plant will be completed not long after that date, however, since the mill and machinery are on the ground.

Mr. Duggan is certain that the foundation work will be finished by tomorrow, and hopes that his men will begin to lay the floor of the mill before being forced to suspend early this week because of the snowstorm. He declared that one more day's work would finish things up.

EXTEND CAMPAIGN

K. O. T. M. Will Continue Membership Contest Throughout March.

The membership campaign of the Yough Tent, No. 159, Knights of the Maccabees, will be continued throug-out the month of March. This was decided at a meeting of the lodge held last evening. There have been so many applications for membership that could not be investigated in time for the closing of the campaign last week, that the contest will be open for another month.

The team bake to be held March 5 will not be postponed, however, as all arrangements have been completed, and everything is in readiness for the entertainment.

The Maccabees' objective was 100 members in 90 days, but this mark was reached before the scheduled close of the contest.

"Y" DIRECTORS BANQUET

Another Meeting May Be Held in a Few Days to Elect a New Secretary; Patrons Day is Observed at West Overton School; Edgar Suter Dies.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, March 2.—Scottsdale housewives will be forced to pay dearly for their papering and painting at housecleaning time this year as Marshall & Alperstein, Kurtz & Stoner, John C. Eckard, James Zeller, Alcy T. May, Kurtz & Palmer, W. H. Stoner, W. A. Gordon, I. P. Shaffer and J. L. Swartzendruber & Son who do that kind of work in Scottsdale have entered into an agreement to charge for their work beginning with yesterday, as follows: 55 cents an hour for painting and paper hanging in town and 60 cents out of town; paper hung by the roll from 15 cents a single roll to 25 cents a single roll; taking off old paper and hanging moulding and similar work, 55 cents an hour. They state that it is necessary to make the raise on account of the increased cost of material, labor and tools.

For Sale.

Patrons' Day.
Miss Martha Workman observed Patrons' Day at her school at West Overton yesterday. For one-half the afternoon the regular school work was conducted and for the other part a program in which almost all of the students in the school took part was presented. Addresses were given by J. C. Hubert and C. F. DeWitt. Among the higher grade students who took part in the program were Margaret Hough, who gave a reading entitled, "Joe"; Mabel Rosensteel who gave the "Ballad of Sweet Pea"; Earl Piper, an essay on "Washington's Birthday"; Joe Piper, an essay on the "Nature Lover's Creed"; a trio, "The Dolly Song," by Elizabeth Kruger, Margaret Bowman and Margaret King; trio, "Japanese Maid," by Mabel Rosensteel; Violet Masako and Mabel Cuffell; Clarence Hough gave a recitation, "My Childhood Fantasies"; the first grade gave "Mother Goose Rhymes." There was a good attendance at the exercises as well as for the school work.

Death of Baby.
Edgar Ewing Suter, aged 17 months, son of Edgar R. D. Suter, died at the home of his father, his grandfather, at South Broadway from an abscess in the throat. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon and will be in charge of Rev. Burgess. Interment will be made in the Scottsdale cemetery.

CORNS ACT LIKE A PUSH BUTTON

Tells Why They Are So Painful and How to Lift Them Right Out.

If you push on an electric button you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quart of an ounce of freezone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, itching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug is harmless and never irritates or even inflames the surrounding tissues or skin.—Adv.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

THE GERMAN PLOT.

"That alleged German-Mexican-Japan plot is susceptible of several interpretations, none of which can be accepted as exact until further facts in relation to it are known."

As appears from the first published reports it has a serious aspect and tends to push us nearer a state of war with Germany. The authenticity of the Zimmerman document, which forms the basis of the plot, has been fairly well established. The proposal which it contains indicates that Germany, in her desperation, is willing to stop at nothing to gain every advantage by any means, no matter how despicable, that may suit her purposes. If the suggestion offered by Germany in Mexico, to form an offensive and defensive alliance against the United States, has found favor with Carranza, and he in turn has followed instructions by communicating with Japan "suggesting adherence at once to this plan," much mischief may have already been done. If, on the other hand, the Zimmerman document has never reached Carranza, as his ministers declare it has not, and has not also been transmitted to Japan, which its representative denies has been done, the plottings of the German foreign office, so skillfully aided and abetted by Count von Bernstorff, may prove wholly abortive.

Again, it may have been designed that the Zimmerman communication should find its way into the hands of the own government for no other purpose than to distract attention from the submarine situation in Europe by creating in Washington the fear that Mexico, rather than Germany, would require our undivided attention.

It must be confessed, though, that there is a certain air of suspicion about some phases of the matter. The Mexican situation has been fruitful of alleged plots almost from the beginning, but they have been found to be more imaginary than real. The present one has so strong a Mexican tinge to its German coloring that the temptation is strong to place it in the same class as others which have preceded it.

Until there is more direct and positive information as to the knowledge Japan and Mexico may have of the German proposal, the true importance of the discovery cannot be correctly estimated. However, it is no time to become unduly alarmed or excited by the disclosures. They are but a hint of what may be expected so long as Germany, with her back to the wall, is fighting for her existence. She does not want war with the United States nearly so bad as her military leaders would have the world believe. To avoid such an issue there will be no act omitted or thing left undone, which human ingenuity and cunning can devise, to divert or occupy the attention of our own government so that Germany may continue her campaign unimpeded by another powerful enemy on land or sea.

REDUCING FOOD PRICES.

If the advice of State Food and Dairy Commissioner James W. Foust to refrain from buying high priced foodstuffs were strictly followed by every consumer, there would be no uncertainty as to the result. Prices would tumble over night and the rapacious growers and speculators would start a wild scramble to unload their stocks.

Commissioner Foust does not counsel an organized and unlawful boycott, but he has pointed out what can be done in the direction of lowering prices if consumers, of their own accord, would restrict their buying of expensive foods to the extent of practically omitting them from their daily diet. Based upon authentic information compiled by his department, Commissioner Foust declares that while there is a shortage of potatoes, onions and other commodities compared with former years, there is still a plentiful supply, but they are still in the hands of growers and speculators who are holding for top prices.

The food and dairy commission, without power or authority under the law to reach the food speculators, the suggestion was made that the consumers themselves can handle the situation most effectively by refusing to buy. Such action would close the markets in the hands of the growers and speculators. In order to create a demand the speculators would be obliged to materially reduce prices, or assume the risk of holding supplies indefinitely with the more or less certain prospect of a heavy final loss.

In New York there has been a fairly well concerted movement against high prices and consumers are standing firm in their refusal to buy. As a result several heavy successive reductions have been made in prices and the speculators are frantically rushing from one retailer to another to unload the big stocks they have accumulated with a view to making huge profits. The New York campaign was started along rather hysterical and bolderous lines and availed nothing at the outset. Wiser counsel prevailed later and the consumers adopted the plan which Commissioner Foust recommended to Pennsylvania housewives. A latest report says the New York campaign was accomplishing rather surprising results in the reduction of prices.

What New York has done—omitting the riotous and excited forms of protest which marked the beginning of its campaign—other communities can do in forcing the release of speculative food stocks to be sold at fair and reasonable prices.

With the death of "Captain Jack" Crawford, following closely upon the poisoning of "Buffalo Bill" Cody, we begin to realize how fast and how far we are receding from the days of the "Wild and Wooley West."

What the Germans cannot use or take away with them they injure or destroy. They crippled the ocean liners housewives, and later reports say they are destroying the trenches they captured in western Europe. Even Count von Bernstorff put several deep dents in his reputation before he left for home.

Editor Herbert of the Greensburg Tribune, who has had some experience on the border, would probably not offer much objection to the alleged German-Mexican plot if it included nothing more than moving 121 miles south of the Rio Grande.

The Kaiser is reported to have become a closeted friend. What more convincing proof is needed of the existence of the German-Mexican plot?

The letters from Florida ought to be quarantined and sterilized. There is grave danger that they may carry the purring fever from the north before its proper season.

Was that colored guest at the army jail giving an illustration of "armed neutrality" when he got by the police with that "38" in his rear pocket?

Sties for a new city hall are blooming as profusely as did often for the new high school building.

Our weather memoranda are very unreliable. Nearly everybody was of the opinion that the month just closed was much colder than February of 1916. Official records show that the average mean temperature last month was almost a degree higher than for February of last year. Great weather like present trouble is always the worst.

People outside of Washington are very much concerned to know what connection, if any, there can be between the "bone dry" amendment to the post-office appropriation bill and mail tubes. Is another "leak" being planned?

Food prices in New York, like the submarine vessels, are going down.

Out of a deep sense of gratitude for having been permitted to escape, Villa now very indignantly offers his services to Uncle Sam in case Carranza and Bernstorff start something.

DISLIKE.

I never liked J. Simpson Jones, I never liked his strong, lithe build, his bushy and grating tones that seemed to jar my nerves. I didn't like the way he walked—he had no manner, grace; he didn't like the way he talked, the way he wore his face. His joints were loose and swayed his back, his teeth adjusted to the food he ate were large and wouldn't crack, his whiskers were too long. I used to wish he'd move away, to some far foreign shore, so when I journeyed far from home, I saw him never more. Then I fell sick and went to bed, and called in Dr. Gray; he felt my pulse and looked my head and said I'd likely die. For many weeks I suffered there, with rheumatic and gout, and made such noise in my despair. I wore my wind pipes out, and Simpson Jones came there each day, to see what he could do; he fed the cows that shuddered with milk and milked the critters, too. An kind and tender as a fruit, my pain he'd try to ease; for hours he'd cuss disease. Again I'm well, my heart felt grown as sure as the neighbors' heart; I now can buy beating Jones—I praise him far and near.

THE PILL.

The pill is a small, round object which is fed with the utmost abandon to patients who would rather eat nothing else.

One of the best things that was ever done for the medical profession was when somebody invented the harmless white pill which could be sold at 500 per cent margin. After a young doctor who is just out of school, has fed a few tons of these pills to the people of his community, he can quit work and the amount a summer resort in white flannel pants and a look of sweet content.

Some people are very much opposed to the use of pills, and try to get along by use of the highly perfumed onion powder while others can never eat a full meal without immediately attempting to counteract it with a handful of pink pellets. Then there are people who can never see anything go to waste and

Pills will not revive energy in a man who never had any to start with, who drops all of the pills left on the front porch in line of samples, in this manner becoming as fragrant as a drug store clerk.

Both schools of medicine, allopath and homoeopathy, prescribe pills whenever all else has failed. It is considered better practice to prescribe a quantity at the expense of the abutting property owner, but once in a while a stray will still strike the right spot when the doctor is not looking and effect a cure. This is one of the sweetest trials the doctor has to bear.

There is a strong suspicion abroad that if people would eat fewer pills and take more exercise, mixed with a semi-occasional bath, they would live longer and have more money to spend on time and inner tubes. Pills will not revive energy in a man who never had any to start with.

THE SHORTAGE OF MOTIVE POWER IS CAUSE BLOCKADE

International Situation Used By the Railroads as a Defense.

CURTAINMENT IN EXPORTS

Not Alone Sufficient to Bring About the Congestion Which Now Prevails in Both East and West. Trouble Began Before Submarine Order Issued.

In current discussions of the present railroad blockade, attention has been given to the curtailment in exports, only temporary, we hope and believe, occasioned by the German declaration of unrestricted submarine warfare, beginning February 1st, says The American Metal Market.

Call it human nature or psychology or what you like, there is a natural tendency to exaggerate this influence. The railroads would hardly do otherwise, when they are on the defensive, moved to make explanations, than to play this point for all it is worth. As in the newspaper writers, we all know what they are like. It makes a good story that the railroads are blocked by reason of an international development in which everybody is already intensely interested. It makes a much better story if the cause can be assigned. The railroads are blocked, perhaps the reader might doubt the statement, but explain that it is all Germany's fault and everybody accepts the story because everybody knows what Germany has done.

Let us consider the matter quantitatively. One cannot be precise but one can be accurate enough for the purposes. There are about 2,500,000 freight cars in service in the country and their average capacity is about 40 net tons. These are matters of statistical record, making about 100,000,000 net tons capacity. Usually the cars are not loaded to capacity but when it is movement for export it is rarely that they are not.

Now as to the curtailment in exports. Last year's iron and steel exports, including machinery and various iron and steel products, we have already estimated at not to exceed 3,000,000 gross tons, which would be 172,000 net tons a week. It is probably quite close to estimate that the exports of all iron and steel, machinery and metals, i. e., all metals and products thereof, were about 200,000 net tons a week. They were not all, by any means, from the Atlantic seaboard, and all those from the Atlantic seaboard were not destined for the submarine area. There have been, and are, heavy exports from Pacific ports. All the exports even to England, France and the Mediterranean are not shut off. Iron and steel and the metals have constituted but a large part of the total exports. When these metals are available, it would be preposterous to estimate that the total volume of exports held back in the first fortnight of February, all merchandise amounted to as much as one million net tons, but even that, if it all remained loaded in freight cars, would be only 17% of the freight car capacity of 100,000,000 tons. A million tons of freight held back would be equivalent to 100 cargoes of 10,000 tons, or 200 cargoes of 5,000 tons. Everybody knows that no such number of sailings has been canceled or postponed.

Furthermore it is no strain on the memory to recall that prior to February 1st it was well known that there was serious congestion at and near eastern terminals on account of export merchandise for which there was not sufficient vessel capacity. We recall estimates going the rounds that there was 5,000,000 to 4,000,000 tons of iron and steel awaiting shipment. The reports were not credible, but they were going the rounds.

This railroad blockade is due to a shortage of motive power. All other influences are insignificant in comparison. There was not enough motive power last fall, in mild weather. Through constant hard service the locomotives are in much worse shape now, whereas in winter they need to be in better shape to perform an

A Laxative for Babies Good for Everybody

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a Safe and Efficient Family Remedy.

Every member of the family is more or less subject to constipation and every home should always be supplied with a dependable remedy to promptly relieve this condition. Whenever the bowels become clogged and the natural process of elimination thereby disturbed, the entire system is affected, and readily subject to attack of disease. Constipation is a condition that should never be neglected.

Mrs. E. R. Gilbert, of Millboro, Va., says that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a splendid laxative for children because they like its pleasant taste, and it acts so easily and naturally, without griping or strain, and she finds it equally effective for the rest of the family.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin and contains no opiate or narcotic drug. It is mild and gentle in its action, and does not cause pain or discomfort. Druggists everywhere sell this excellent remedy for fifty cents a bottle.

equal amount of service. It does not necessarily follow, of course, that when the blockade has been caused by insufficient motive power a sufficient remedy of motive power would be the only requisite for untangling the situation.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

Cleanse the Little Liver and Bowels and They Get Well Quick.

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "Caldwell's Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "Caldwell's Syrup of Figs" to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Stock children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "Caldwell's Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "Caldwell's Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

SOISSON THEATRE.

"BUFFALO BILL."—Thrills galore are in "Adventures of Buffalo Bill," the dramatization of the life of the wild and woolly west as it actually was in the days of the stage coach and untamed Redskins. Intimate glimpses are given of Indian life. One thousand Redskins are pictured in their war dances, medicine dances, the celebrated ghost dances of the last great Indian war, and other tribal ceremonies.

Gale Henry in the Joker comedy, "Mule Mate," a Laemmle drama, "Broken Hearted." Tomorrow Alice Brady appears in the World drama, "A Woman Alone." It is the story of a young girl who marries a telegraph operator and they lived in a dreary wayside station. Later a wealthy young lady comes into her life. See it Saturday at the Solson. Saturday afternoon only a three-act drama will be shown for the children entitled, "Robinson Crusoe." Every child has heard about Robinson Crusoe and his man Friday.

ONLY POWERFUL MEDICINE WILL END RHEUMATISM

It matters not whether you have had agonizing pains from rheumatism for 20 years or distressing twinges for 20 weeks, Rheuma is strong enough and mighty and powerful enough to drive rheumatic poisons from your body and abolish all misery or money back.

A. A. Clarke and all druggists sell Rheuma on a no-cure-no-pay basis for not more than 50 cents a bottle, and after you take a half teaspoonful once a day for two days you should know that at last you have obtained a remedy that will conquer rheumatism.

For over five years throughout America Rheuma has been prescribed by broad-minded physicians and has released thousands from agony, pain and despair.—Adv.

To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure you get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear in the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Strosco production, is being presented today. House Peters is one of the most distinguished masculine stars in the photodramatic world. "The story of 'The Happiness of Three Women' has to do with the adventures of Billy Craig, a young attorney. His fiancée, the wife of a jealous husband and the loving helpmate of a bank cashier, are the three women whose happiness Craig holds in the hollow of his hand. For a time it would appear that he must either sacrifice his fiancée, and leave the wrath of the jealous husband, or send back the cashier, an innocent man, to prison. Tomorrow Frank Keenan and Thelma Salter will appear in "The Crab," a five part Triangle production. Here is a refreshing play dealing with the small town as almost every American has known it. It is in its way the same distinctiveness of subjects that made "Way Down East" and "The Old Homestead" endure the speaking stage when other successes came and went with the passing of the season.

OPHEUM THEATRE.

"THE TIGER WOMAN."—Miss Theda Bara reaches the height of a siren's art. With a skill that is unsurpassed, she has portrayed a cunning, remorseless woman of the upper strata of life, impersonating a Russian princess who, for the love of priceless jewels and money, lures her victims along in a manner that holds one breathless. The character Miss Bara plays in this wonderfully staged William Fox production out-rivals all previous "vampire" roles. It is a characterization that will go down in screen history. It depicts the innermost soul of a hard, cruel siren devoid of scruples. The story is as follows: Princess Petrovitch, a Russian aristocrat, betrays her husband to the secret police. After robbing him they go to Monte Cristo. There he loses all their money and the princess poisons him. She sails for America. On board ship, she meets Edwin Harris, a rich man's son. He becomes infatuated with her. To keep her in style, he robs and kills his father. His brother Mark, deserts his wife for the vampire. A former servant, who attempts to blackmail her is arrested.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach aches, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The uric acid gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarb, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

Joseph McGinnis of Lower Tyrone reports that he has a cow which he prizes very highly, which last week gave birth to twin calves. Mr. McGinnis says that he has heard of fine horses, of which he is a lover, and chickens which lay two eggs per day, but after all, he would not give up his "cow family" for any of them.
Mr. and Mrs. George Cochran, Jr., who have been spending the past few months in Florida, will leave today for Cuba where they will spend the next few weeks before coming home.
Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Schroyer, who have been spending the past winter in Florida, will start for Philadelphia today accompanied by Dr. H. J. Bell. Mrs. Schroyer has been in poor health for some time and will enter a hospital in Philadelphia for treatment.
The Douglas Business College Scholarship Contest now started. Fill out blank on page 2 and get a scholarship for a "little extra" work. Your names will appear Saturday.

NEWSY NOTES TELL WHAT'S HAPPENING IN MT. PLEASANT

Allegheny Branch Conference to be held in U. B. Church June 5-7.

CORONER PROBES TRAGEDY

William Rosky's Death—Declared to Have Been Accidental; Members of Cantata Cast Entertained by Mrs.
Lillian Elchery Girls Have Party.

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, March 2.— Following an executive meeting in Greensburg it has been decided to hold the Allegheny branch conference meeting at the United Brethren Church on June 5, 6 and 7. Between 200 and 250 members of the W. M. A. and Otterbein Guild will be in attendance. Already plans are being made for the entertainment of the delegates.

Cantata Cast Entertained.
Following the singing of the sacred cantata "Ruth, The Moanless" at the Church of God for a second time this week, Clarence Zimmerman entertained the 34 members who took part at the home of Mrs. Lillian Elchery last evening. Refreshments were served and Rev. A. W. Barley, director of the choral class, was presented with a rocker; the presentation address being made by Prof. U. L.
Gordy. The choral class will meet next Tuesday evening at the United Brethren Church and all those wishing to become members will be present and join the class.

Probe Rosky's Death.
An inquest was held yesterday for William Rosky, found dead Wednesday morning under the shelter angular in the Standard yard. The coroner's jury decided that he had met his death accidentally by falling off the shutter under the engine. The funeral services for Rosky will be held at the Polish church this afternoon and interment will be made in the Polish cemetery.

Bachelor Girls Meet.
Miss Anna Britton entertained the Bachelor Girls' club at her East Washington street home last evening.

HOW TO GET STRONG

A Simple Remedy.
Whatever the cause, we want to say to every person who needs strength, you need Vinol as it is the most efficient strength creator we have in our store. Here is proof from Dorchester Mass.—
"I don't know what we would do without Vinol in our family. I was weak, nervous and run-down as the result of an operation, and Vinol restored my strength. Then Grandmother had a nervous breakdown, and Vinol of built her up and restored her health and strength after everything else had failed. We have used Vinol for 13 years in our family, and would not be without it in the house." Myrtle L. Healy, Dorchester, Mass.

We believe in Vinol because we know it is a great strength creator, due to the beef and cod-liver peptones, iron, and manganese, peptones and glycerophosphates, all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine, so we always return the purchase money if Vinol fails to benefit those who buy it.

Laundry, Dorchester, Mass.
Vinol is sold in the West Side by Profit, Harmoning. Also at the leading drug stores in all Pennsylvania towns.

OPPERMAN IS CHAMP

Dispute Between Him and C. Cuno Settled at Urtina.

A long standing dispute between Fred Opperman and Charles Cuno as to who is the best duckpin artist in this city was settled last evening at Urtina, when the two rolled a 10 game match for the championship.
The final score was, Opperman, 1420; Cuno, 1167, the O. & W. alley man completely outclassing his opponent.

In order that there could be no room for an excuse on the part of the loser, five games were rolled on the Penn alleys and five on the Bruce wick. Out of the 10 games Cuno won but two, Opperman taking the remainder by safe margins. The score:

Opperman—145, 142, 155, 123, 155, 130, 129, 155, 133, 147—1420.
Cuno—108, 157, 115, 115, 151, 121, 102, 99, 114, 104, 98—1167.

KEEP A JAR OF MUSTEROLE HANDY

It Quickly Loosens Up Coughs and Colds in Throat or Chest

Just a little Musterole rubbed on your sore, tight chest before you go to bed will loosen up congestion and break up most severe colds and coughs.
Musterole is a clean white ointment made with oil of mustard. Simply rub it on. No plaster necessary. Better than mustard plaster and does not blister.
Thousands who use Musterole will tell what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, neuritis, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite and colds (it often prevents pneumonia).

ECZEMA CAUSED YEARS OF INTENSE AGONY

"I have suffered intense agony from Eczema on my leg and other parts of my body for years, and received only temporary relief from other preparations. It is only a month since I started to use Peterson's Ointment, and there is no sign of Eczema, or itching. You can refer to me."—Geo. C.
Talbot, 27 Peabody St., Buffalo, N. Y.

I've got a hundred testimonials, says Peterson, just as sincere and honest as this one. Years ago, when I first started to put out Peterson's Ointment, I made up my mind to give a big box for 25 cents, and I'm still doing it, as every druggist in the country knows.

I guarantee Peterson's Ointment, because I know that it's mighty healing power is marvelous. I say to every one who buys a box that it is rigidly guaranteed for Eczema, Salt Rheum, Old Sores, Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles, Ulcers and Sunburn, and if not satisfactory and druggist will return your money.—Adv.

By C. A. Voight.

HEART of the SUNSET BY REX BEACH

Author of "The Spoilers," "The Iron Trail,"
"The Silver Horde," Etc.

But skepticism aroused Blaze's indignation. With elaborate sarcasm, he retorted: "I reckon that's why my heart team of mules ran away and dragged me through a pasture patch of peas burs, eh? It's wonder I wasn't killed. I reckon I smoked so much that I gave a tobacco heart to the best three-year-old bull in my pasture. Well, I smoked him to death, all right. Probably it was nicotine poisoning that killed twenty acres of my cotton, too, and maybe if I'd cut out tobacco I'd have planted that boudoir on the irrigation ditch. But I was wedded to cigarettes, so my banks are cloven down on me. Sure! That's what a man gets for smoking!"

"And do you attribute all these misfortunes to Dalton's dressmaker?"

The man nodded gloomily. "That ain't half! Everything goes wrong I've scared to pack a weapon for fear I'll injure myself. Why, I've carried a bowie knife in my boot ever since I was a babe in arms, you might say; but the other day I jabbed myself with it and nearly got blood-poisoned. This fellow, Strange, with his fortune-telling and his charms and his conjures has bewitched the whole wide world. He's getting rich off of the Mexicans. He knows more secrets than a parrot."

"He is nothing more than a circus fakir, Mr. Jones."

"Yes! Just the same, these greasers 'd vote him into the legislature if he asked them. Why, he knows who fetched back Ricardo Guzman's body! He told me so."

"Really?" Alaire looked up quickly then the smile left her face. After a moment she said, "You're right. He could tell me something I want to know."

"No, don't you get him started," Blaze cautioned, hastily. "He'll put a spell on you like he did on me."

"I want to know what Ed had to do with the Guzman affair."

Blaze shook his head slowly. "Well, he's mixed up somehow with Lewis. I've things that was at the bottom of the killing, and he hoped to prove it on him; but our government won't do anything, and he's stumped for the time being. I don't know any more about Ed's death than you do, Mr. Austin; all I know is that I got a serpent in my household and I can't get shot of her. I've got a lapful of troubles at my elbow."

"This is too much for me," she declared, rising. "But I'm interested in what you say about Mr. Strange. If the Mexicans tell him so much, perhaps he can tell me something. I do hope you have no more misfortunes."

"You stay to supper," Blaze urged insistently. "I'll be in as soon as that beautiful moon."

But Alaire declined. After a brief chat with Dalton, she remounted Montrose and prepared for the home-ward ride. At the gate, however, she met Dave Law on his new mare, and when Dave had learned the object of her visit to Jonesville he insisted upon accompanying her.

It was early dusk when they reached Las Palmas; it was nearly midnight when Dave turned his leg across his saddle and started home.

Alaire's parting words rang sweetly in his ears: "This has been the pleasantest day I can remember."

The words themselves meant little, but Dave had caught a wistful undertone in the speaker's voice, and fancied he had seen in her eyes a queer, half-frightened expression, as of one just awakened.

Joe Sanchez had beheld Dave Law at the Las Palmas table twice within a few days. He spent this evening laboriously composing a letter to his friend and patron, Gen. Luis Longoria.

CHAPTER XV.

An Awakening.

Time was when Phil Strange boasted that he and his wife had played every fairground and seaside amusement park from Coney Island to Galveston in his battered wardrobe trunks were parts of old costumes, scrapbooks of clippings, and a goodly collection of lithographs, some advertising the supernatural powers of "Professor Magik Sovereign of the Green World," and others the accomplishments of "Mlle. Le Garde, Renowned Sorcerer Elocutionist." In these gaudy portraits of "Magik the Mystic" no one would have recognized Phil Strange. And ever more difficult would it have been to trace a resemblance between Mrs. Strange and the blond, bushy-headed "Mlle. Le Garde" of the posters. Nevertheless, the likeness at one time had been considered not too flattering, and Phil treasured them as evidence of imperishable distinction.

But the Stranges had tired of public life. For a long time the wife had confessed to a lack of interest in her vocation which amounted almost to a repugnance. Snake-charming, she had discovered, was far from an ideal profession for a woman of refinement. It possessed unpleasant features, and even such euphonistic titles as "Professor Elocutionist" and "Fertilizing Alchemist" failed to rob the calling of a certain odium, a suggestion of vulgarity in the minds of the more discriminating. This had become so distressing to Mrs. Strange's dual sensibilities that she had voiced a yearning to forsake the platform and sit for something more congenial, and finally she had prevailed upon Phil to make a change.

The step had not been taken without misgivings, but a benign Providence had watched over the pair. Mrs.

Strange was a natural seamstress, and luck had directed her and Phil to a community which was not only in need of a good dressmaker but peculiarly ripe for the talents of a woolseyer. Phil, too, had intended to embrace a new profession; but he had soon discovered that Jonesville offered better financial returns to a man of his accepted gifts than did the choicest of seaside concessions, and therefore he had resumed his old calling under a slightly different guise. Before long he had acknowledged himself well pleased with the new environment, for his wife was far happier in draping dress goods upon the figures of her customers than hanging python folds about her own and he found his own fame growing with every day. His mediocrity gifts came into general demand. The country-people journeyed miles to consult him, and Blaze Jones' statement that they considered in the fortune-teller as they would have counted in a priest was scarcely an exaggeration. Phil did indeed become the repository for confessions of many sorts.

Contrary to Blaze's belief, however, Strange was no Prince of Darkness and took little joy in some of the secrets forced upon him. Phil was a good man in his way—so conscientious that certain information he required weighed him down with a sense of duty.

"You said you didn't know him."

"Well, I don't. I've never been to see him in his life, but—his sweetheart has. Rosa Morales comes regular."

"Rosa! Jose's sweetheart?"

"Yes. Her and Jose have joined out together since you shot Pablo, and they're framing something."

"What, for instance?"

The fortune-teller hesitated. "I only wish I knew," he said slowly. "It looks to be like a killing."

Dave nodded. "Probably is. Jose would like to get me, and of course the girl."

"Oh, they don't aim to get you. You ain't the one they're after."

"No? Who, then?"

"I don't know nothing definite. In this business, you understand, a fellow has to put two and two together. All the same, I'm sure Jose ain't carving no epitaph for you. From what I've dug out of Rosa, he's acting for a third party—somebody with pull and a lot of coin—but who it is I don't know. Anyhow, he's cooking trouble for the Austin, and I want to stand from under."

Now that the speaker had dropped all pretense, he answered Dave's questions without evasion and told what he knew. It was not much, to Dave's way of thinking, but it was enough to give cause for thought, and when the man finally parted it was with the understanding that Strange would promptly communicate to further intelligence on this subject that came his way.

On the following day Dave's duties called him to Brownsville, where court was in session. He had planned to leave by the morning train; but as he continued to meditate over Strange's words, he decided that, before going, he ought to advise Alaire of the fellow's suspicious in order that the night discharge Jose Sanchez and in other ways protect herself against his possible spite. Since the matter was one that could not well be talked over by telephone, Dave determined to go in person to Las Palmas that evening.

Truth to say, he was hungry to see Alaire. By this time he had almost ceased to combat the feeling she aroused in him, and it was his only solace to an impulsive for stronger than friendly anxiety that he hired a machine and, shortly after dark, took the river road.

The Fates are malicious judges. They delight in playing ill-natured pranks upon us. Not content with splashing and measuring and cutting the threads of our lives to suit themselves, they must also tangle the skein, causing us to cut capers to satisfy their whims. At no time since meeting Alaire had Dave Law been more certain of his moral strength than on this evening; it no time had his grip upon himself seemed firmer. Nor had Alaire the least reason to doubt her self-control. Dave, to be sure, had appealed to her fancy and her interest; in fact, he so dominated her thoughts that the imaginary creature whom she called her dream-man had gradually taken on his physical likeness. But the idea that she was in any way enamored of him had never entered his mind. In such wise do the Fates amuse themselves.

Alaire had gone to her favorite after-dinner refuge, a nook on one of the side galleries, where there was a wide, swinging velvet couch; and there, in a restful obscurity fragrant with flowers, she had prepared to spend the evening with her dreams.

She did not hear Dave's automobile arrive. Her first intimation of his presence came with the sound of his heel upon the porch. When he appeared, it was almost like the materialization of her uppermost thought—quite as if a beam from her fancy had stepped forth full-armed.

Connellsville's Most Dependable Furniture Store.

"Dream Man!" She Murred.

She rose and met him, smiling. "Now did you know I wanted to see you?" she inquired.

Dave took her hand and looked down at her, framing a commonplace reply. But for some reason the words lay unspoken upon his tongue. Alaire's informal greeting, her parted lips, the welcoming light in her eyes, had sent them flying. It seemed to him that the dim half-light which illumined this nook emanated from her face and her person, that the fragrance which came to his nostrils was the perfume of her breath, and at the prompting of these thoughts all his scattered longings rose as if at a signal. As cautious prisoners in a jail delivery overpowered their guards, so did Dave's long-repressed emotions gain the upper hand of him now, and so swift was their uprising that he could not summon more than a feeble, panicky resistance.

The awkwardness of the pause which followed Alaire's inquiry strengthened the rebellious impulses within him, and quite unconsciously his friendly grasp upon her fingers tightened. For her part, as she saw this sudden change sweep over him, her own face altered and she felt something within her breast leap into life. No woman could have failed to read the meaning of his sudden agitation, and, strange to say, it worked a similar state of feeling in Alaire. She strove to control herself and to draw away, but instead found that her hand had answered him, and that her eyes were flashing recognition of his look. All in an instant she realized how deeply tried of her own struggle she had become, and experienced a reckless impulse to cast away all restraint and blindly meet his first advance. She had no time to question her yearnings; she seemed to understand only that this man offered her rest and security; that in his arms lay sanctuary.

To both it seemed that they stood there silently, hand in hand, for a very long time, though in reality there was scarcely a moment of hesitation on the part of either. At length, breathless instant of uncertainty, then Alaire was on Dave's breast, and his strength, his ardor, his desire, was thrusting through her. Her bare arms were about his neck; a sigh, she taken of utter surrender, fluttered from her throat. She raised her face to his and their lips melted together.

"Dream-man!" she murmured. As consciousness returns after a swoon, so did realization return to Alaire. Faintly, uncertainly at first, she pushed herself out of Dave's restraining arms. They stood apart, frightened. Dave's gaze was questioning. Alaire began to tremble and to struggle with her breath.

"Are we—mad?" she gasped. "What have we done?"

"There's no use fighting. It was here—it was bound to come out. Oh, Alaire—!"

She shook her head, and, avoiding his outstretched hands, went to the edge of the veranda and leaned weakly against a pillar, with her head at the creek of her arm. Dave followed her, but the words he spoke were scarcely intelligible.

Finally she raised her face to his: "No! It is useless to deny it—now that we know. But I didn't know, until a moment ago."

"I've known all the time—ever since the first moment I saw you," he told her, hoarsely. "To me you're all there is; nothing else matters. And you love me! I wonder if I'm awake."

"So late?"

"Yes. We must think it out, the best way we can. I—wonder what you think of me?"

"You must know. There's no need for excuses; there's nothing to explain, except the miracle that such great happiness could come to a fellow like me."

"Happiness? It means everything but that. I was miserable enough before, what shall I do now?"

"Why, renounce your life," he cried, roughly. "Surely you won't hesitate about this?"

Accident Prevention Posters Issued By State to Promote Safety

A series of accident prevention posters issued by the state department of labor and industry have been distributed and are being placed in shops throughout Pennsylvania. On all the posters a symbol embracing a cross in a keyhole, with the legend "Safety Always," has been printed, the slogan having been adopted in preference to the more widely used "Safety-First."

The first poster gives merely a few compelling statistics. Accident reports received for six months, it is stated, show over 1,000 persons killed, over 125,000 persons injured, and over $1,000,000 lost in wages by injured. "Fifty per cent of this enormous loss could be prevented," the bulletin reads. "Do your work in a safe way. Is it worth your while?"

"Why take chances when injury is sure to result?" asks the second poster, which contains the picture of a man who lost an arm while adjusting moving machinery. If you oil, repair, or adjust moving machinery, "sooner or later you are bound to suffer for such carelessness," the bulletin goes on to state.

The third poster shows how employees are being killed while not paying attention to their work. The necessity of having switches and switchboards enclosed and of having dry floors and proper floor covering in front of switchboards is emphasized.

"The workman who wishes to avoid accidents dresses properly," is the theme of the fourth bulletin. Two pictures show the dress of the chance maker and of the careful workman, and all are advised to "avoid loose or ragged clothing and to protect the feet from injury by wearing good, sound shoes."

Other posters will likely be issued at later dates.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick gases and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops fermentation and acidity and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.—Adv.

Gingerole Ends Backache and Headache Instantly

Put It On Freely! It Won't Blister!
Stops Rheumatic Agony and Reduces Painful Joints.

For miles around people are coming for Gingerole. The report of its power to stop all aches and pains almost instantly and to end all soreness and lameness speedily has had its effect and the supply of 25-cent boxes at the drug stores is going like hot cakes.

Thousands use it for neuralgia, for lumbago, neuritis, for sore throat and chest colds. Nothing like it for sore, inflamed feet or burning bunions, corns or callouses. A big package for 25 cents on money back if dissatisfied plan. But be sure you ask for and get the original Gingerole. All first class druggists supply it.—Adv.

MACCABEES AND B. & O.

Lodge Five and Bullroaders to Play
This Evening.

The Maccabees basketball five will play against the "Fast" Bullroaders and Ohio team at the Maccabee hall this evening and the railroaders say it is a question whether the Maccabees will be able to attain another victory to their long list. The attendance in the league games is increasing as the interest grows and a record breaking crowd is expected for the game this evening.

The girls game is drawing good crowds and the preliminary between the Overholt girls and the Lohan girls will be this evening's attraction. The Lohans forfeited the last game with the Lady Maccabees but have promised to be ready with the tap of the bell this evening.

The Junior Maccabees will play against the D. T. H. S. Juniors at Lebanon this evening. The game will be called at 7:45.

Easy Way to Get Rid of Itching

Don't worry any more about that itching skin trouble. Just get a jar of resitol ointment and a cake of resitol soap at any drug store.

With the resitol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened.

Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resitol ointment, and cover with a light bandage if necessary to protect the clothing.

This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Choosing Your Shampoo Soap
When you select a soap that contains nothing healing, properties like the resitol balsams in resitol soap, you are not likely to have trouble with dandruff, loss of hair or itching scalp. Ideal for the youngsters' heads.

COUNT FIFTY! NO RHEUMATIC PAIN

Don't Suffer! Instant Relief Follows a Rubbing With
"St. Jacob's Oil."

Scop "dosing" rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacob's Oil" conquers pain!

It is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia and reduces swelling.

Lambs up! Get a small bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.—Adv.
